Open tickets are reviewed and triaged daily by the Technical Support Lead, with a review twice weekly with management. Depending on the status of the ticket and the SLA's, a decision will be made to escalate to either Level 2 (Xcellerate IT Technical Consultant/Lead Engineer/Technical Lead) or Level 3 (Tungsten Support).

2.5 Application Support requests will be categorised as below:

The (SDL) Secure Software Development Lifecycle process consists of a series of product activities impacting various aspects of security within all phases of the SSDL process: Planning, Design, Implementation, Quality Assurance, Release, and Maintenance. The high-level activities include:

- OWASP Top 10 Awareness training performed annually
- Requirements review against OWASP ASVS Level 2
- Threat Modelling
- Static Application Security Testing: Use of Veracode or other tools
- Software Composition Analysis: For security vulnerabilities and licensing
- Dynamic Application Security Testing: Use of BurpSuite, Acunetix, Zap, etc.
- Penetration Testing: By an independent party

While most of the security practices are generally applicable to all Tungsten software, Tungsten evaluates each software product with respect to the most applicable and appropriate security practices for that product or product class. Some factors that are evaluated include: target market, product maturity, and target user environment.

Data security:

Designing and running cloud infrastructure requires not only technology but a disciplined approach to processes. This includes policies for management, knowledge sharing, risk, escalation, as well as day-to-day operations.

Select Employees: Only employees with the highest clearance have access to our data center data. Employee access is logged and passwords are strictly regulated. We limit access to customer data to only a select few who need such access to provide support and troubleshooting on our customers' behalf

- Audits: Audits are regularly performed and is reviewed by management

- As-Needed Basis: Accessing sensitive, confidential, as well as customer data is done on an as-needed only basis and requires approval from authorized personnel. Access to customer data must be approved by the customer (i.e. as part of a support incident), or by senior security management to provide support and maintenance
- Awareness: Annually, employees and contractors must complete mandatory security awareness training which fosters a culture of vigilance against social engineering and other attack methods

Network security:

Our network security team and infrastructure helps protect your data against sophisticated electronic attacks. The following is a subset of our network security practices.

- Secure Communication: All data transmission to services are encrypted using TLS 1.2 protocols, and we use certificates issued by SHA-256 based CA ensuring that our users have a secure connection from their browsers to our service. We use the latest and strong ciphers like AES_CBC/AES_GCM 256 bit/128 bit keys for encryption, SHA-2 for message authentication and ECDHE_RSA as the key exchange mechanism
- IDS/IPS: Our network is gated and screened by highly powerful and certified Intrusion Detection / Intrusion
- Prevention Systems
- Control and Audit: All access points are controlled and also audited
- Secured Application OS: Tungsten applications run inside a secured, segregated operating system engineered for security that minimizes vulnerabilities
- Virus Scanning: Traffic coming into Tungsten x Servers is automatically scanned for harmful viruses using state of the art virus scanning protocols which are updated regularly

Tungsten achieves compliance by maintaining programs to support the following standards:

- SOC 2 Type II: Tungsten Cloud Services complies with Trust Service Categories: Security, Confidentiality, and Availability
- PCI DSS: Our Egistics Cloud Services operation complies with PCI Standards
